This approval does not guarantee that the plan will pay for the service. You are responsible for deductibles, coinsurance, copayments. Before getting services, it's a good idea to visit your plan website to check your provider's network status and cost of service. HMO: For example, to make sure your care is covered, always see providers in our network. Your plan does not cover care from outside of our network, except in an emergency. PPO: For example, you can see care providers outside of our network if they accept Medicare, but keep in mind that your costs may be higher.

Coverage for these services is subject to the terms and conditions of your health benefit plan including exclusions, limitations, conditions, and patient eligibility. Payment is based on the submitted claim, the actual health care services you received, your plan benefit language when services are received and coordination of benefits.
